Dysart Election Results

Elections held in the Municipality on Saturday, December 2 attracted over 1,000 voters to the polls, a higher vote than usual, but while cottagers did not turn out in as large of numbers as expected no doubt their presence contributed to the increased vote.

As a result of the election we will have a new Deputy Reeve, namely Holly Sisson, and as Holly has served as councillor, deputy reeve and reeve he brings much experience to the Council table. Lawrence Morrison, who will be the new Councillor for Ward III, has never served on council but has served on both the Dysart School Area Board and later on the Dysart Telephone Commission, which should serve him in good stead when he assumes his seat on Council.

A lot of election stir was caused in Ward I Haliburton as the result of a phone call campaign directed against Councillor Harold Bannon. One look at the results indicate that while the average citizen of this village would refuse to get worked up as to preference of one candidate against the other in an ordinary municipal election, they simply will not be told by anyone how to vote. Those who engage in such misguided tactics only serve to do immeasurable harm to the candidate they are trying to help.

Lloyd Coneybeare, who sat on last year's Council, was returned with the backing of the Lake Kashagawigamog Property Owners Association. It must be apparent to all that from now on cottage owners are going to be a factor to be reckoned with at future elections if they think they are being treated unjustly.

Keith Carnochan has proved himself to be a fine politician as he again headed the School Area Board. Leonard Salvatori was next, followed by Dr. Terry Hicks who will take over the position vacated by Mrs. Elizabeth Hobden. Mrs. Fay Martin left little doubt that she was the people's choice as Harcourt's representative on the Monmouth-Glamorgan School Area Board.

Letters To The Editor

December 4, 1967.

Mr. Editor:

If you have the space in your paper to print this letter, I would appreciate it very much.

As a ratepayer of the Township of Stanhope in answer to Mr. Nesbitt's letter of last week. He was saying in his letter that the Township of Stanhope would not plough private driveways because they were using up the tourists' money. So if any were in the Township on the weekend of December 2nd or 3rd they could certainly see how their money was being spent to keep the roads cleaned out in the winter, because the Township's main roads were made some mess. They ploughed the roads with just the plough, no wing to put the snow back.

They also went past my house twice but didn't better the roads any the second time as they followed the same trail as they made the first time.

As for my driveway, it has never been ploughed by the Township's plough and will never, be because if they made the same mess of it as the Township roads I wouldn't want them to plough my driveway.

Thank you,
Nellie Thompson.

To The Editor,
Haliburton County Echo,
Haliburton, Ontario.
Dear Mr. Feir:

It has been rumoured on many occasions that the C.N.R. railway line from Lindsay to Haliburton may be discontinued.

These rumours have caused deep concern for our Company and many other companies that use their facilities.

Our Company account with the railway this year will reach some $25,000.00, and this is an increase of some $8,000.00 over last year.

I have written to Wm. Scott, our M.P., (along with a copy to Glen Hodgson) to clarify these rumours and make a statement on same.

I have also written a letter to Albert LaRue, Chairman of the local Businessmen's Association, to discuss this matter with the Township Council, to also ascertain a clarification.

L. (Larry) Taylor

It came as quite a shock on Monday morning to learn that Lawrence (Larry) Taylor had departed from our midst to that land beyond the sunset from which there is no return.

Larry Taylor was a fine person and was held in high regard by all who knew him. The deceased was not only a chef of more than average ability, but an excellent builder as well.

At this time we join the citizens of this area in extending our heartfelt sympathy to his loving wife, the former Grace Morrison, and sons Brant, Barton, Kirby and Gavin in their hour of sorrow.

Glamorgan Election Results

The poll for the Township of Glamorgan opened in the Township Office at 10:00 a.m. on Saturday, December 2 and closed at 6:00 p.m.

With a slate of two candidates for Reeve and seven candidates for the four seats on Council, including three of the 1967 Councillors and four new nominees (one being a summer resident), interest seemed to run higher than usual with a total of 181 voters exercising their franchise. A high percentage of the permanent residents cast their ballot, including one 91-year-old lady in the person of Mrs. Martha Reil.

Quite a number of our summer residents evidenced their interest in Township affairs by making the trip from various centers some distance away in order to cast a vote for the persons of their preference. When one takes into consideration the fact that the total resident population for 1967 (including children) is 357 as opposed to a total of 858 electors on the Voters' List, we must realize that our part-time residents form a large voting majority in this Township and deserve to voice their opinions.

The summing up of the ballots after the close of the poll showed the following results:

E - Elected
* - Tied

REEVE
Victoria R. Agnew	133E
Willard Billings	35
COUNCILLORS
* Glen Bird	63
* James E. Dewey	63E
Robert Fotheringham	73E
Allan Hadley	92E
Henry A. Lamport	48
Harry P. O'Keefe	55
Dallyn Pickens	83E
* Since candidates Glen Bird and James E. Dewey tied for fourth position it was the duty of the Clerk to cast the deciding vote. On the basis of former experience on Council, this vote was cast in favour of James E. Dewey. Although Mr. Bird was not present for the counting of the ballots, he contacted the Clerk at the earliest opportunity and graciously conceded the vote.

After the results of the vote were announced, Reeve elect Victoria R. Agnew gave an impromptu speech expressing her appreciation for the support shown her and her 1967 Council. This was well received by those present and Willard Billings, the defeated candidate for Reeve, offered Mrs. Agnew his congratulations on her re-election. This leaves the Council for the Township of Glamorgan intact as it sat in 1967 with the exception of the one Councillor who declined to stand for election this year, and whose seat was filled by Dallyn Pickens.

Monmouth Election Results

A near record number of voters turned out at the polls for the Township of Monmouth Election held on Monday, December 4.

The question of having the Voting Day on Saturday or Monday resulted in the following: Saturday - 160; Monday - 109.

The following are the election results for Reeve and Councillors:

REEVE
Lloyd Cully	143E
Gary Agnew	138
COUNCILLORS
Mrs. Margaret Finlay	153E

R.B.P. 262 Meeting Held

The regular meeting of R.B.P. 262 Lindsay was held on Tuesday, November 28 in the I.O.O.F. Lodge Hall, Lindsay.

The meeting was called to order by Preceptor Reuben Gorrill. D.M. Merle Lindsay and all other officers were filled.

Deputy Grand Master Gordon W. Barr of Gooderham paid an official visit and extended greetings and best wishes from the Grand Lodge of Eastern Ontario. The meeting was saddened as word had just came of the passing of one of our valued members, Sir Knight Murray Squires. The sympathy of this Preceptory is extended to Mrs. Squires and all members of the Squires family.

A memorial service was held in the Lodge Room, conducted by D.G.M. Gordon Barr. The draping of the warrant was carried out by Sir Knight Merle Lindsay.

Lunch was then enjoyed by all, followed by the singing of "God Save The Queen".

HALIBURTON NEWS LETTER

As we write the weather is quite mild, and on Tuesday when the sun came out our snow took quite a severe beating. Many of the cottagers journeyed up to exercise their franchise on Saturday last were surprised at the small amount of snow we had compared to some other areas.

We regret to report that Mr. Al Blanchard is at present in Western Hospital, Toronto for observation. Since being involved in the car - train accident at the second crossing Al has never been able to regain his normal health and for some time has been working under difficulties. We trust that his stay in hospital will be of benefit to him.

Sorry to report that Mrs. Bella Bernstein who has not been in the best of health lately is undergoing treatment in a Toronto hospital. It is to be hoped that Mrs. Bernstein will recover her health and will soon be seen behind the counter in her store again.

We understand that our train service is being cut to two trains per week until next May when normal service is to be resumed. This is no doubt one of the economy measures being adopted by the Federal Government. We would like to suggest another economy measure, and that is that all those expensive $18,000 a year Members of Parliament who apparently spend more time lolling around at pink tea parties be docked for the time they are absent.

The Dysart Township School Area Board have set up an office in the Irwin Block on Highland Street. Clifford Kellett, Secretary-Treasurer of said board, has been operating the office from his home but as we all know school business has become mighty big business and no doubt will become bigger. An office centrally located in Haliburton will be greatly appreciated by those who have business to transact concerning school business.

We are glad to learn that Mrs. Mae Thayer, who recently underwent surgery in Civic Hospital, Peterborough, is making a slow but satisfactory recovery at time of writing. Mrs. Thayer has not been in the best of health of late but we hope that after undergoing an operation and the necessary treatment she will soon recover her normal health.

Moved by Todd, seconded by Lewis that we adjourn this Special Meeting.

Highland Weavers Hold Workshop

Looking back on the weekend workshop of the Highland Weavers, it would be difficult to decide which was the most beneficial, the instruction or the good fellowship.

Ten would-be weavers gathered in the Craft Room of the Hyland Crest Home. Their instructors were George and Cora Reed from Kingston. They had the rare quality of being able to instill into the class their enthusiasm for weaving. They taught the class so much in such a short time, and their help was much appreciated.

Mr. Wade, Superintendent of Hyland Crest, invited the class to lunch on Saturday. After a morning of weaving everyone enjoyed a delicious luncheon.

If there is anyone interested in weaving, any member of the class would be willing to help you. If you would like to enrol in a weaving class you will be welcome.

Those who participated in the workshop were: Marg. Bibby, Isabel Harrison, Ida Germyn, Grace Taylor, Frances Krick, Barbara Hodgson, Laura Kirkwood, Shirley Hodgson, Marjorie Irwin and Alice Dugan.

WILBERFORCE

Well, the day has arrived and gone, the elections in Monmouth Township are now history and we are pleased to give you the results of the voting. Thanks to the support of our members the following members of our slate have been elected: Reeve - Lloye Cully, Council - Warren Mitchel and Mrs. Margaret Finlay; the other members of the new Council are Ted Deterling and Fred Taylor. We hope that the new blood in the Council will be beneficial. We would like to thank all our members in Tory Hill and Wilberforce who supported us in our efforts, and we would also like to thank those members of our committee who worked so hard in our interest, the ladies in Tory Hill who saw to it that the out of town members who took time off were well supplied with food and did not have to go hungry.

On the question of the Polling Day we can say that by a large majority the people agreed that the Polling Day should be changed from Monday to Saturday, thus proving that the people at large agree that all the taxpayers in the Township, whether they are permanent residents or cottagers should have an equal opportunity to have a say in the operation of the Township without having to lose a day's pay to come up and vote. Altogether, one might say a highly successful day.

We might say that we had a very enjoyable trip up and saw quite a few of our friends in the area. The elections seemed to be causing quite a bit of excitement and more interest was shown than there has been for quite a number of years. We left on our return trip around 9:30 p.m. after the results were known and ran into a lot of fog which delayed us on our trip, but we were lucky to arrive back home at 1:00 a.m. after a very pleasant and satisfying day.

Norman Clarke Passes Away

We are sorry to report the passing of a former resident here in the person of Mr. Norman Clarke, who passed away at Scarborough Hospital on Monday, November 27, 1967. The deceased at the time of his demise was in his 69th year.

The funeral was held from the Holgate Funeral Home in Mimico on Thursday, November 30. Interment was made in Park Lawn Cemetery.

Mr. Clayton Cruickshanks of Haliburton, a brother-in-law of the deceased, attended the funeral.

The Life And Times Of Clayton Hodgson

A mother of the calibre of Isabella West Hodgson had proved conclusively to her children the folly of underestimating the power of women. C. W. Hodgson's first campaign move was to engage the support of the Lindsay Ladies' Conservative organization. They rallied to his support with untiring efforts and in the years that followed their chapter became one of the most effective and best organized in the Province of Ontario, under the leadership of the efficient President, Mrs. Rogers, and the Secretary, Mrs. Taylor.

Always an extrovert and a joiner, Hodgson's membership in a wide variety of organizations such as the Masons, Shriners, Rotary, Kiwanis and the Canadian Legion, did much to extend his spheres of influence. Perhaps his strongest affiliation proved to be the Orange Lodge which continues active in the areas comprising most of his riding. He served for three years as the County-master of Haliburton County and for three terms as Grand Master of Ontario.

In later years the pressure of government duties did not alter his allegiance to local charity schemes — as an example, from 1954 to 1964 he acted as campaign chairman for the Salvation Army's Haliburton fund drive.

Part of Hodgson's original problem was generating a rejuvenating enthusiasm for the losing Conservative cause. To those early political rallies he sought to bring the excitement and colour which had keyed his fall racing tours. Aiding him initially were two local entertainers, George Brennan of Haliburton, a veteran and a talented magician, and young Bob Bannon, who played the guitar and sang.

That his methods paid off, was proven by a winning majority of 800 votes, making him the first federal nominee from Victoria - Haliburton to win on a first attempt. By 1949 his majority climbed to 1,000; in 1953 it more than tripled to 3,600; and in 1958 Hodgson carried the riding with an all time record vote of 16,361 and a majority of 11,052.

Election night was always a triumphant occasion — after the Lindsay reception he usually rushed back to Haliburton for a meeting with the home folk. Once the chauffeur and car didn't turn up on schedule so he drove himself back to the village, arriving by 11:30 for a grand celebration and a parade led by the Haliburton Marching Band and the Dysart fire engine. Mr. Wes Baker was on hand with A. H. Curry's show team and wagon to transport the victor through the streets where a thousand cheering supporters were whooping it up — they danced in the town hall until the wee small hours.

Over the years, assisting him during the elections, were his campaign manager, Charles Logan, President of the Progressive Conservatives; the Lindsay Conservative Party Chairman, Vern O'Connor; and Wilbert Worsley of Fenelon Falls, backed up by a host of workers in each polling division across the Counties. He was especially fortunate in engaging support from the distaff side; notable among these were Mrs. Genevieve Parkin and Mrs. Joseph Hodgson. During his tenure at Ottawa he was ably served by two secretaries, Mrs. Nora Punnett and Miss Zaida Proctor, also Miss Mary Rogers of Lindsay.

From 1945 until 1957, C. W. Hodgson sat in Ottawa as a Member of the Opposition — that these years were not wasted is proven by his later accomplishments. In addition to attending to innumerable requests from his own riding, he served during this time on Opposition Committees on Public Works, Natural Resources and Northern Affairs. He was particularly concerned about the Liberals' administration of the Department of Public Works where, he charged, patronage abuses were rife.

Always an advocate of Senate Reform, for some time he carried on a running feud with the powerful Liberal Senator W. A. Fraser. Early in his career he also took on, in a Parliamentary debate, that political giant C. D. Howe. Of the engagement he later commented "I was just too green to know any better, but I felt I held my own."

C. W. Hodgson was sitting in Parliament when Howe, who in later years had become a close friend of Hodgson's, went down to defeat after 22 years as the Member from Port Arthur riding.

The C.N.R. also earned Hodgson's criticisms; in 1955 he decried their economy drive entailing a lay-off of crewmen, charging that the Company should have started with the top brass which outnumbered those in the C.P.R. by 50%. He also brought meat inspection infractions to the attention of the Department of Agriculture during the 1954 meat scandals.

For 12 years C. W. Hodgson was a gadfly nipping the flanks of the Liberal Department of Public Works, or sniping at the Department of Transport with the argument that the completion of the Trans-Canada Highway was as important to Confederation as the original rail link.

Finally in 1957, under the dynamic leadership of John Diefenbaker, the turning tide of public opinion carried C. W. Hodgson and his party into power. Then followed the busiest and most productive years of his life — in 1958 he was named as Parliamentary Assistant to the Minister of Public Works, Howard Green. Immediately he took measures to eliminate political patronage in labour matters.

Always a believer in the potential of the Trent Valley waters as a tourist attraction to the ever expanding numbers of cabin cruiser owners, especially Americans, he was able to push an advertising campaign publicizing it, while developing its facilities and carrying out extensive dredging on its western end. Other projects were a cleanup of Seugog waters, improved waterfront and breakwater at Beaverton, plus attention to docks, dams and locks throughout the Counties. In 1962 a grant of $100,000,000 was received for the Trent System with the first million spent at Fenelon Falls.

C. W. Hodgson made the development of the uranium mines in the Cardiff - Bancroft area a matter of personal concern. By 1958, almost 25 million dollars had been spent there. Although he worked hard in later years to forestall their closing, international markets defeated his efforts. Contracts for the Lindsay Arsenal were also a matter for concern — at times the results were discouraging.

Although Victoria - Haliburton came to be considered a "safe Conservative riding" since Premier Leslie M. Frost and C. W. Hodgson represented it in Toronto and Ottawa for many years, C. W. Hodgson always conducted each campaign with as much vigour as the first.

Reporters interviewing Mr. Hodgson never caught him without a ready answer on any issue. Most of their columns have been preserved in a series of scrap books. They include his own "Pen Pictures from Parliament" in which he kept constituents informed on national affairs.

From this wealth of material, significant facts emerge — a deep personal admiration for the Conservative orator, Arthur Meighen, and esteem for the methods of Sir Sam Hughes of Lindsay, who knew how to get things done in spite of officialdom and red tape. In his early days, Hodgson had occasionally driven Hughes on horse and buggy tours of the Victoria - Haliburton riding; he profited by this experience.

SUGAR AND SPICE

by Bill Smiley

HURRY HOME, HONEY

I'm beginning to realize what a widow with children goes through. It's tough being both a momma and a poppa. I'll be glad when my wife finishes her college course, gets home, and can fight it out with Kim on the old basis, no holds barred, recriminations aplenty, ferocious threats, and tears enough to wash the kitchen floor.

Last weekend I nearly gave my wife a heart attack. After spending most of the weekend screwing up my courage, I gritted my teeth, took a good, stiff pelt of Walker's Special Old nerve tonic, and announced gravely:

"Dear, I've got something to tell you about Kim. Now don't get all upset. Everything will probably work out for the best."

"She's not!", she shrieked. "Oh, my God!"

"I'm afraid she is," I said, sombrely. "But you've got to face the facts. You can't keep a kid in the nest forever. These things happen in the best of families. There are some things in this day and age that we may not approve of. But..."

Well, with hindsight, I'll admit I was pretty stupid. But after my wife had flown three times around the living-room, without ever lighting, it emerged that we were talking about different things.

She thought Kim was pregnant. All I was trying to do was tell her something even worse, that Kim had, after giving me a real feminine, leg-closs, charming con job, joined a "group". She's been invited to play the organ and sing in one of those shouting, belting, deafening groups that are driving every adult over 30 out of his little old square mind.

This is just a sample of the troubles I have. My wife thinks that classical music is it, and groups are for the well-known birds. Kim thinks a young person is missing a vital, terribly important experience if she doesn't ever belong to a group. I think — well, never mind.

But my point is that in the good old days, Kim and her mother would have fought it out, with frequent appeals to me from each side, and both sides ignoring my rational compromise. Now, I have to take the decisions, lay down the law, designate "getting-in" hours, and try to force the kid to eat some breakfast.

Not to mention cheering her up when she's down, cooling her down when she's all up-tight, telling her to pick up her clothes, and rearing at her to put the lid on the jam bottle and put it away, after breakfast.

And she'll read this column and say, "You don't like me, do you Dad? I'm just a nuisance to you. I wish Mum was here."

And I'll say, "Stop feeling sorry for yourself. Did it ever occur to you to do the dishes? I wish Mum was here too. She'd straighten you out, you little bum."

And she'll say, "Oh, you think I'm a little bum, eh? Well, thanks a lot. That certainly makes a person feel wanted."

And I'll say, "Bum, schlum. Get the carrots ready for the stew and then get at your homework."

And she'll snap, "That's all you think about. Carrots. You're getting more like a school-teacher all the time. Pompous and arrogant."

And I'll shout, "You get upstairs and get at your homework and stop being so lippy or I'll give you a thick ear."

Knowing I wouldn't dare, she flounces out, goes up and works off her repressions with the guitar and a couple of shouted freedom songs. And I work off mine by getting the carrots ready and inviting her down to dinner.

But we get along fine. She knows her place — head of the household, and I know mine — foot of the household.

I'll be glad when Mum gets home. At least she knows a head from a foot, which is something in these troubled times.

Your Neighbourhood Merchant, What's He Worth?

By HELEN COSTAIN

Have you ever thought of the independent businessman in your neighbourhood? What does he mean to you?

He and his family use your schools, attend your places of worship, take an interest in your community. And you can trust him — your local merchant — he's right there. He has to be. There was one I had to trust; you see, I married him.

My late husband was a hardware merchant; and if you think hardware business is just selling saucers and nails... With this business there has to be the know-how: not just relying on the counter-hopper who picks things from a shelf or rack. You can depend on your local merchant because he doesn't depend on the cute packaging, the eye-catching merchandise — to be put across by someone with the hardsell pitch.

Your neighbourhood merchant is there the year round. Help is not too far away for emergencies — and don't they happen on nights, Sundays and holidays?

There's the housewife who needs help, advice; repairs for household gadgets. For the handy man there's man-to-man talk and a mutual respect. And isn't it good to have him in your neighbourhood for seasonal difficulties? The first snowfall, frozen pipes, furnace trouble; the early unexpected heat wave with its hardships on invalids and babies. (You need a fan — or help with the old one.)

He's not a here today and gone tomorrow operator, your neighbourhood merchant. He stands behind what he sells. If he thinks the article you ask for won't do the job you want, he won't sell it to you.

What's he worth to you? Your community? Or can you put a price on him?

Uncle Dudley's Column

At the church I regularly attend we listened to a very fine discussion on "The Lost Bible". The setting was in the Old Testament days when the temple at Jerusalem, long fallen in ruins, was being restored, and the parchment scroll of the Books of the Law was found amidst the debris.

The speaker then brought a modern version showing our Bible may be lost to us.

This brings me to the recognition of the fact that this is a critical month for our Canadian Bible Society.

Every Christian Church is presently actively engaged in the overseas missionary movement. Teachers, preachers, agricultural workers and nurses are serving in the have not areas for the betterment of living conditions to the folk they serve. The Word goes with them, and it still has the great power of appeal as the record of God's people.

The Scriptures in full or in part have been translated and distributed in 1,280 different languages. These translations are the stock in trade of the overseas servant of God.

In all of these areas there is hunger and unrest, and there is also a 'great famine' for enlightenment through the knowledge of Holy Writ.

In the closing month of this year much can be done by the members of the Christian Churches. There is no other way to serve in this area of Bible distribution. The local Treasurer is Mr. Ross Harrison, Carnarvon.

I would beseech you that you make a liberal donation to this cause. A receipt will be forwarded and the donation, large or small, is eligible for Income Tax deduction. Remember, it is more blessed to give than receive.

Thanking you,
C. P. Rogers.

IN MEMORIAM

CARNOCHAN — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Tom, who passed away December 8, 1966.

We who love you sadly miss you. As it dawns another year; In our lonely hours of thinking. Thoughts of you are ever near. What we would give if we could say,

"Hello Dad" in the same old way. —Sadly missed by Wife and Family, Bob, Ron, Keith, Ken, Betty, Noreen, Eve and Lois Ann.

CARNOCHAN — In loving memory of a dear Father who passed away December 8, 1966.

Although we smile and make no fuss, No one misses him more than us; And when old times we often recall,

That's when we miss him most of all.

Wishing today as we've wished before,

That God could have spared him many years more.

—Ever remembered and sadly missed by daughter Lois Ann, son-in-law Grant and Family.

MACDONALD — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Wesley MacDonald, who passed away December 12, 1962.

He left us quietly, his thoughts unknown,

But left a sweet memory we are proud to own;

So treasure him Lord, in your garden of rest,

For when on earth he was one of the best.

—Lovingly remembered by wife Ethel and son William MacDonald.

MACDONALD — In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, Wesley MacDonald, who passed away on December 12, 1962.

So many things have happened Since you were called away, So many things to share with you Had you been left to stay;

Every day in some small way Memories of you come our way. Though absent you are ever near Still missed, loved, always dear

—Lovingly remembered by daughter Ollie, son-in-law Percy and grandson Peter Lymburner

UPTON — In loving memory of a dear son and brother, Bernard Marshall, who passed away December 1, 1950.

We do not need a special day To bring you to our mind, For the days we do not think of you

Are very hard to find. If all the world was ours to give

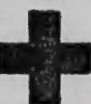

We'd give it, yes and more; To see the face of Bernard dear

Come smiling through the door.

—Lovingly remembered by Mom, Dad, Brothers and Sisters.

CHURCH NEWS

History Of Minden United Church

The United Church in Minden recently held a Centennial service, with Rev. R. McCaw delivering an inspiring sermon. We also had the pleasure of hearing Mr. A. Stouffer give a short history of the Church. Everyone found it so interesting that we thought many of the readers would enjoy it also. The following is the history:

On this Centennial occasion when our past as a nation is being reviewed, it is fitting that we as a congregation should do likewise.

The year 1859 was a red letter day in the history of Minden, for it was in that year that a Methodist circuit rider from Bobcaygeon, Rev. John A. Dowler, entered the village of Minden (then called Gull River) and began that Christian work, which today is continued under the name of Minden United Church. At that time services were held sometimes in the home of some settler, or in the nearest log school house. The worshippers brought their lunches and after the service sat around visiting, making it a sort of social occasion as well as a worship service.

These circuit rider services were continued for three years, when in 1862 a resident minister of the Methodist Church, Rev. William Sheridan, came to Minden. We learn from his letters and diaries that he was responsible for Christian worship in eight townships, four on each side of the Bobcaygeon Road. His pastoral visiting had to be done on foot or horseback, as he followed the forest trails to the homes of his parishioners.

The Free Presbyterians who form the other branch of Minden United Church history, were not far behind the Methodists in reaching the Gull River settlement. Rev. William Clark arrived to form the Presbyterian Church in 1860 and he was succeeded by Rev. Walter Rogers, Rev. Jas. McNaughton, Rev. Wm. Reeve, Rev. J. W. Ferris and Rev. J. W. Bell. Six of them, all within four years. This fast turnover of ministers might indicate that early conditions on the pastoral charge were more than a little exhausting and discouraging.

By about 1870 or 1871, both the Methodist and Presbyterian Churches decided that the time had come to build permanent houses of worship. Each congregation built on Newcastle Street. The Presbyterian Church was built across the street from the present United Church; the building has since disappeared, and in its place, there now stands the Masonic Hall. The Methodist Church was erected, and the building still stands, two doors west of the present church. Both buildings were used as places of worship for about 50 years. Following its abandonment as a church building the Methodist Church was used as a dwelling for several years, then remodelled as Donald Finn's law office.

Before the end of the 19th century came the following church buildings to form the present and pastoral charge, some of which build the Church of their day.

are no longer in use: Blairhampden, Deerpark, Twelve Mile Lake, Maple Lake, Carnarvon and Deerpark, and the seldom seen but still standing church known for many years as the Adams' Narrows Church at Ingoldsby.

In 1921, preceding the national union of the denominations, the Minden Methodist and Presbyterian Churches decided to share resources and responsibilities. The congregations united to form the Minden Methodist and Presbyterian Co-operative Church, but under the direction of the Rev. Wm. Parker plans were laid for a new church building across the street on Methodist property.

Across Canada in 1925 church union came into being, and in that year the cornerstone of the new church was laid, and on Sunday, January 17, 1926 dedication services were held for this church building. Rev. Parker is still living. The building committee were R. H. Baker, S. S. Taylor, E. A. Rogers, L. L. Best, T. C. Prentice, R. J. Smith and D. F. Rogers. The trustees were R. H. Baker, E. A. Rogers, L. L. Best, S. Phillips, C. C. Kirkwood, A. Lindop, A. Palmer, S. S. Taylor, R. J. Smith, T. C. Prentice, Geo. Rogers and H. Graham.

Since Church union God has richly blessed the congregation of Minden United Church. In 1932 the Minden charge and the Carnarvon charge were combined to form the Minden - Carnarvon Pastoral Charge; this union has been a happy one for all concerned, and our pastoral charge is now one of the strongest rural charges in Ontario. In 1938, under the leadership of Rev. J. M. Fleming, the Minden congregation for the first time became self supporting. From that event, it has never looked back, and today an ever increasing percentage of its budget is being given to the missionary funds of the Church.

Numerically the Church has also thrived: in 1925 church membership was 102, today we have 265 members; in 1925 Sunday School enrollment was 37, today we have 125 in our Sunday School.

As the congregation has increased in numbers, it gradually has outgrown the building erected in 1925, especially for Sunday School purposes. Consequently in 1958, under Rev. H. R. MacDonald, the congregation decided to build a $50,000 addition which would about double the size of the original Church. This new Church was dedicated at special services on May 24, 1959. Thos. Brignall, who died December 18, 1957, left in his will a sum of money to buy the organ, which adds so much to the enjoyment of our worship services.

This Church stands among us as a visible testimony in brick and mortar to that same "Faith of our Fathers" which entered the life of our community more than one century ago. We pray that we may be worthy of the heritage passed on to us by the pioneers, and that we may hand on to the coming generations a firm foundation of Christian love and faith upon which they may build the Church of their day.

PADRE OF THE PUBS CONDUCTS SERVICE

Rev. Gordon Wmch, Padre of the Pubs in the Metropolitan area, led in the service of worship in the Minden - Carnarvon - Maple Lake Charge on Sunday, November 26.

He gave a very informative address covering some phases of his work, having some just criticism of our penal system. Particular mention was made of one case where a man in his sixties was interviewed, and this man admitted about forty years sojourn in the penitentiary at various stages, and was planning some theft of over fifty dollars value to warrant him a return ticket to the only home he knew.

We would also like to say a hearty word of thanks to the Zion Church Choir at Carnarvon who did a very fine job.

Rev. Jas. Cargo, on holidays, is not expected to return to his pulpit until early December, being held in Toronto by the necessity of surgery for their young boy. The prayers of his people are with Rev. and Mrs. Cargo in their time of stress.

WILBERFORCE U.C.W.

The November meeting of the Wilberforce U.C.W. was held in the home of the President, Mrs. E. Smith. A fine devotional period was presented by Mrs. E. Saunders on the theme "Perfect Trust and Perfect Peace".

Following a brief business meeting came the highlight of the evening, when Mrs. Delbert Miller, the guest speaker, related some of her experiences as a nurse in charge of the Wilberforce Red Cross Outpost some years ago. The ladies shuddered at her references to blocked roads in sub-zero temperatures, laughed at her humorous anecdotes, and were saddened by her account of the death of a small abandoned boy. All admired the courage and stamina exhibited by Mrs. Miller and her co-workers as they worked to save lives under far from ideal conditions. A snapshot period followed and a snapshot album brought by Mrs. Miller was passed around and the ladies looked through this with great interest.

The speaker was thanked by Mr. McAllister, who also asked the Blessing.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess and a social hour was much enjoyed.

Mrs. Miller kindly invited the members to her home for the Christmas social meeting, December 12. There will be an exchange of gifts.

UNIT 2 U.C.W.

Twelve members and two visitors enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Earle Casey's home on Monday, December 4 for the Unit 2 Christmas meeting of the Haliburton U.C.W.

Mrs. Owen Morrison, Group Leader, welcomed everyone and opened the meeting by the singing of a Christmas Carol "The First Noel". During the devotional period, which was conducted by Mrs. Leonard Thorne, several other carols were sung. The Christmas story was read from Luke 2: 1-20 by Mrs. Marshall Leighton.

Following a short business period, Mrs. Rea Stinson read a most interesting story from McColl's magazine entitled "The Christmas Pageant". A family of Herdmans in this story helped the rest of the cast to appreciate anew the Christmas story.

Instead of exchanging gifts with each other, the members brought little gifts of cosmetics etc. to be given to the girls in the Victor home.

At this time each renewed her membership for the new year.

Mrs. Morrison who has been the leader for the past two years thanked everyone for help and encouragement during that time. She urged members to accept leadership in a new Unit if asked.

At this time she also thanked Mrs. Casey and assisting hostesses.

The singing of the benediction closed the meeting. Mrs. Thorne had two interesting contest while lunch was being prepared. A lovely salad lunch was much enjoyed by all.

OTF Against County School System

TORONTO — Schools should be administered on some other basis than by counties, said the Ontario Teachers' Federation in a statement issued recently. They were commenting on an announcement by Premier Robarts that counties will be the school administration units by 1969.

The teachers contended that in many instances counties no longer have any economic, geographic or sociological entity. Miss Nora Hodgins, OTF secretary-treasurer, said that among counties there are great disparities in sizes, populations and numbers of pupils and schools.

Miss Hodgins said that detailed studies by both government and private authorities indicate that the present county organizations are not adequate for either managing municipal or school board affairs. Counties such as Hastings, Leeds and Waterloo, to name but three, do not necessarily have the components required to organize a board of education for each of their areas.

"The Premier's announcement raised the question of the conflict between the program of regional government studies undertaken by the Department of Municipal Affairs and the program of developing larger educational units undertaken by the Department of Education."

"We also question whether sufficient research has been done on this matter. The Federation would welcome the opportunity to study the material prepared in connection with the Premier's announcement", said Miss Hodgins.

The Federation asks why the government was directly involving itself in a consolidation move that was already accelerating in the past few years: 1945 - 5,649 school boards; 1960 - 3,676 school boards; 1967 - 1,490 school boards. The 1967 figure is made up of 988 Boards of Education, Public School Boards and Secondary School Boards, and 502 Separate School Boards.

"The Federation requests that the Premier prepare a white paper outlining the reasons for and the details of his proposed reorganization", concluded Miss Hodgins.

Back In Days Of Yore

Back in days of yore When Fred Freeman ran the store

And the lumber business boomed all around,
You would hear a healthy yell
And some would cuss as well,
When the cattle roamed the streets of our town.

Then W. R. came along,
Tall, slim and strong,
And he ran a horse livery all around;

Those days were wild and tough
But he was man enough,
And we made him the reeve of our town.

In the winter we had snow,
Lots and lots of snow,
And the roads they were very seldom plowed;
You'd hear the jingle of the bell
And a good old shanty yell
As the boys drove their horses into town.

In the summer we had fun,
And the motor cars would hum
As the tourists they came in from all around;
There were picnics and by chance
Someone would throw a dance
There was always something doing in the town.

Now the hockey school is booming
And the girls are also swooning,
As the hockey stars come in from all around;
Ken Hodge was quite a lad,
But the girls they felt bad,
He had a pretty wife to escort him around.

Now those good old days are gone
Remembered now by song,
And the cars and planes are buzzing all around;
Now there is T.V., black and colour,
But if you want to hoot and holler
Buy a snowmobile and join the boys in town.

Edward Miller.

TB - A Burning Issue

As a taxpayer, what would be your reaction if someone proposed burning down a 16-roomed consolidated school?

It sounds wild, but last year a group of Canadian taxpayers seriously advocated just that. They weren't in the majority, and they were persuaded not to do it — but they weren't fooling when they suggested it.

The suggestion was made because 32 of the children in their 16-room school developed tuberculosis. Some of them were very sick indeed before their disease was discovered.

That is enough to frighten any sensible community. In fact, it would be a very irresponsible community if it were not frightened. And when the parents recovered from the first shock they were very wise about it.

The first thing they did was to learn more about tuberculosis. Like a great many other communities in Canada the people had thought TB was pretty well controlled. Quite a lot of people had felt, for example, that really it didn't matter whether one went to the tuberculin-testing surveys or not.

One of the things they learned was that despite so many of their children had to go to the sanatorium, things could have been a lot worse if there had not been systematic tuberculin-testing surveys in recent years. It was a routine tuberculin survey, carried on by the health department, which alerted them to the danger. The public health nurses, on a routine check-up, found that eleven children who had been negative to the test when it was done before were then positive — which showed contact with someone spreading TB germs.

The whole school was immediately tuberculin tested again, and all those who were positive to the test had a chest X-ray. There were some very frightened parents when they found how many had to go to sanatorium. There were also some pretty serious looking staff members at the sanatorium when they found how many of these teenagers had positive sputum — which means they were infectious.

Still, there was one thing for which to be thankful — they had been found. If it hadn't been for the routine tuberculin testing there is no telling how long it might have been before their disease was discovered.

Naturally a great many other boys and girls had been infected. So had some of the teachers, and people as the hairdresser who saw a great deal of the girls. Because of the regular tuberculin testing the health department knew who had been infected recently. Some idea of the size of the problem can be estimated from the fact that more than 200 persons are receiving drugs to prevent breakdown.

This happened in a prosperous community where children and parents were well nourished and there were comfortable homes — the kind of community where we are inclined to presume that tuberculosis epidemics could not occur. This one should be a warning to us all.

Letter To Editor

Minden, Ontario.
December 5, 1967.

Dear Sir:

In a recent issue of the "Echo" you reported that Minden residents are to vote on two liquor questions on January 15, 1968. While this was not unexpected, it was rather shocking that our Minden area businessmen should sponsor this vote; and at the earliest possible date they could from the time of our last plebiscite.

No doubt our businessmen honestly believe that the more easily liquor can be obtained the more business it will bring to our area, and will create more employment. We can only hope our THINKING will realize that only a very small number stand to gain (only those actually connected with the sale and distribution of liquor); the rest of us stand to lose in ways too numerous to mention here.

We have not yet forgotten how the people of Dysart et al allowed themselves to be hoodwinked (by the liquor interests in their latest plebiscite) into believing that Liquor Lounges and Dining Lounges would mean a great increase in local employment and more money for all.

Accordingly a number of deeply concerned residents of Anson, Minden and Minden have recently met to organize a "Vote No" campaign. We did so believing we still have many people in our area who are opposed to any additional outlets for the sale of liquor. These people would be deeply disappointed if no one should rise to occasion and champion their cause.

We also believe that we must arouse our citizens to the potential dangers to all if the sale of liquor by the glass should be allowed here. We believe that the present outlets are completely adequate to meet the needs of those who must drink. We will resist any further expansion of these facilities.

Sincerely yours,

L. Schmitt.

The Glee Club Record

Last year a fine Glee Club was formed at the Haliburton Highlands Secondary School by Mr. Bill Gliddon.

This remarkable singing group of almost 100 girls and boys concluded a most successful first year with the making of an LP recording of many of their best songs. On this occasion, Mr. Dennis Casey, a member of the Glee Club, conducted the choir, and Mr. Gliddon played the piano. Solo sections were beautifully sung by Miss Julie Woodcock, Miss Barbara Deacon, Mr. Paul Carpentier and Mr. Tim Casey.

The record became an immediate success, and 200 copies were quickly obtained and sold to Glee Club members, friends and families. An additional 200 records had to be ordered. Of these there are at present only a few records left, so if you do not already have one of these valuable recordings be sure to obtain one right away by contacting Mr. Earle Casey or Mr. Bill Gliddon. The Glee Club has begun a new season now, and desires your support in this way to help them off to a good start for the new school year.

Last spring, just after the recording had been made, the manager of the recording company stated that most school choirs of this type whom he recorded tended to be quite sub-standard and a detriment to their school. However, he was delightfully surprised to find at Haliburton a new group who were of such high standard and so very well trained.
